Daniel Lee Brings His 'Animal Instinct' to SAMA

By Paul Vaughn, on September 2nd, 2011

Taiwanese photographer Daniel Lee's Animal Instinct series opens tonight at the San Antonio Museum of Art for a free reception from 6 – 8 pm. This exhibit is part of Fotoseptiembre USA, a month-long international photography exhibit that brings some of the top photography-based art and artists in the world to San Antonio.

Animal Instinct is a survey exhibition of Daniel Lee's photography from 1993-2010. Lee creates digital hybrids of human beings and animals portraying the concept that a person is believed to exhibit behavioral and personality traits related to the animal year during which he was born. Lee, born in 1945 in Chongqing, China, has been a professional fine artist since the late 1970s. Beginning in 1993 he has used computer technology to combine his drawing, photographic and fine art skills into one hybrid medium.

Lee will also be featured in a public conversation with SAMA curator of contemporary art David Rubin on Tuesday September 6, 2011 starting at 6:30 pm. This event is also free and will be held in San Antonio Museum of Art's auditorium.

The San Antonio Museum of Art is located at 200 West Jones Avenue, San Antonio, Texas. You can contact them at (210) 978-8100 for additional details. The free public opening reception Friday, September 2, 2011 from 6 – 8 pm. The exhibit is on display from September 2, 2011 until February 19, 2012. Regular museum visiting hours and admission fees apply.
