SAFOTO Web Galleries Monograph Curated by Michael Mehl

Tami Bone grew up in deep South Texas where her childhood was oftentimes free and driven by her imagination. Her current photographic work relates to impressions of early years that have made their way into her narrative images. Today, Tami lives in Round Top, Texas, and engages photography as a means of storytelling and self expression.

Tami has exhibited nationally and internationally in group, juried, and solo exhibitions. She has received numerous awards and recognitions, including being named one of the Best Of The Best Emerging Fine Art Photographers by BW Gallerist; a selection as a Photolucida Critical Mass Finalist; a Photo Review Competition Winner; and a Review Santa Fe Participant. Her work has been featured in Aether Magazine, and was recently published in the United Kingdom's Black+White Magazine.

Mythos

The Mythos series is inspired by Tami Bone's childhood in deep South Texas, where she experienced more than the usual share of myths and mysteries. Her mind, always busy with imaginings, was striving to see past the veil of obscurity drawn by established and accepted social norms. Not knowing the people she came from, or how she came to be, led to a heightened sense of wonder that imbued most everything. Wonder has been entwined with a sense of hope and possibility for as long as she can remember; fueling her life-long quest to see the unseeable and to know the unknowable – primal longings that we all share in one way or another.

Tami believes that personal stories, both true and imagined, are significant and have the power to shape our lives, eventually becoming our lives. While the Mythos series reflects her own personal narrative, it is also a sampling of shared symbolism and mysteries that bind us together as humans.
